

“First Love”

Some think love will always last,
But others say it'll become the past.
But that doesn't mean you shouldn't try
Even if you think you might cry.
Love twists and turns day by day,
But never does it truly fade away.
Now love can change as things get tough,
But no one said it had to change stuff.
For what love was ever to see,
That both of them, wanted to break free.
You can't always feel the love that's there,
But keep on looking, don't let it tear.
It'll come back, don't end it now
Please stick with me, I'll fix it somehow.
So now I just sit here and wait,
For you to love me, and clear the slate.
