

Above the Moon

I have been gone for quite some time
And you've been looking for me.
Don't bother looking on the ground,
For there I never will be.

I will not be around the house,
Nor will I return soon.
But if you seek to find me,
Just look above the moon.

A glassy orb beyond the night
Is the only floor I know.
And now I'm free from earthly chains,
There's nowhere I can't go.

So if you're looking for me,
Search out past the stars.
I never want to come back,
I'd rather stay out far.

But if you wish to join me,
Come on, don't hesitate.
There's always room for just one more
And I can hardly wait.

But until then I'm all alone,
And you are still in gloom.
But I'll always be floating
Out there above the moon.
